CellTrust Strengthens Advisory Board with Financial Service, Healthcare and Telecommunication Experts

CellTrust Welcomes Additional Industry Thought Leaders to Support Growth

SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA – March 24, 2014 –CellTrust Corporation, a global leader in secure mobile communication announced today the expansion of their advisory board to support their high level of growth across the financial services, healthcare and government enterprise sectors.

Joan Koerber-Walker, Stuart Browne, Terence “TC” Caston and Ron Schott recently joined CellTrust’s existing advisory team.

Joan Koerber-Walker is President and CEO of the Arizona BioIndustry Association (AZBio), bringing the bioscience community in Arizona together to educate policy makers and the public, influence public policy, and advance the economic interests of the sector. Ms. Koerber-Walker has an extensive technology background, as a former executive at Avnet, Inc., where, for over 20 years, she held positions in sales, marketing and technology.

Stuart Browne is the Senior Vice President of Institutional Sales and Marketing at Good Harbor Financial, working with public and private pension plans, foundations and endowments. Mr. Browne brings over 20 years of experience in management, corporate / business development, finance, and M&A.

Terence Caston is a wireless industry pioneer, influential mobile technology speaker and Senior Director of Sales Engineering for Cellebrite USA, an international leader in mobile device data transfer and mobile forensic solutions for law enforcement.

Ron Schott is currently Executive Emeritus at the Arizona Technology Council (AZTC) where he held positions of President and CEO as well as Executive Director during transitions of leadership. Mr. Schott was also Chairman of the Arizona Telecommunications and Information Council (ATIC). Prior to joining the Arizona Technology Council, Mr. Schott held senior management positions with AOL and IBM.

“We value the vertical specific insight of our advisory board members as we develop the next generation of secure mobile communication solutions,” said Sean Moshir, CEO and Chairman, CellTrust Corporation. “CellTrust is pleased to welcome Joan Koerber-Walker, Stuart Browne, Terence Caston and Ron Schott alongside our already distinguished board members.”
